Wall Street Worshipers Assemble in Entertainment Hall and Revile the Democratic Party.

Mighty is the power of the railroad pass! It is strong enough in itself to lure from their conventions the courtly-clippings take from their duties the heavy burdens; to bring to St. Louis the diamond-studded wearers of the Democratic party; to bring out in full regalia, the swallow-tail dress-suit brigade; to induce the "watermelon Colonels" and the Generals of high degree, who never smelled gunpowder, to meet here for the avowed purpose of assisting the Republican party to capture the State government of Missouri, and to assist the national Republicans to elect William McKinley on a single gold standard platform.

But the railroad pass is not potential enough to induce the farmers, the workingmen, the men with corns on their hands, to desert the Democratic party and bow to the golden calf.

That was conclusively demonstrated Wednesday morning in the State Convention of the Wall Street Democrats.

They met in Entertainment Hall for the avowed purpose of blocking the regular Democratic State and National ticket and land on the little table which served the speaker as a platform. It was loudly cheered by the assembled gold bugs. They designated it as the "greatest of the greatest boisterous all and worshipful according to the custom of the day." "What do you people represent?" asked a spectator in the gallery to a fellow spectator.

"Capital, 7 per cent mortgages and all the corporations in Missouri," was the reply.

"And what would you figure their voting strength to be?" asked spectator number one.

"Just the number of votes you see in the hall," said the gold bug, "the misguided followers of Wall Street are entitled to be spectable considered from a financial or personal standpoint, but the powers they control their individual votes only."

And that's the way even many of the goldbugs sized up their own convention.

It was just 11 o'clock when Col. James O. Broadhead, the grand old boister, walked

FRANK S. BLACK FOR GOVERNOR.

NOMINATED BY THE NEW YORK REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

IT WAS A FREE FIGHT.

Platt Stood Out of the Way and Allowed the Numerous Candidates

Fell.

Frank S. Black

Aug. 26.—Before the convention was to assemble in Convention Hall, it was anybody's race in the convention, said Mr. Platt, who was asking "For whom will you declare?" but that gentleman said: "This is a free fight, and I shall not have any candidate if the convention is not a success."

The flowers of George W. Aldridge were evident this morning. In fact, more than they have been for some days. They had come to the Palmer and Brackett votes would come to them on the next ballot taken at the convention, and that they would have gains below the Harlem. The Fish people were equally confident that they would have gains, but did not announce from what locality they would come. Senator John Rainey was doing active missionary work this morning for J. Sloot Fassett and claimed that as a dark horse Fassett headed the list.

Two ballots were taken in the convention last night. There are 735 delegates in the convention, and 380 are necessary to a choice. No candidate received within 150 votes of enough to nominate, and the convention adjourned until morning.

Gen. Stewart L. Woodford was chosen permanent chairman of the convention.

Warren Miller was excluded from the convention, but at the instance of Mr. Platt was permitted to speak.

The platform was reported by the Committee on Resolutions and adopted.

The Committee on Credentials was not ready, and the Committee on Rules and Order of Business reported. The Committee on League Work was unprepared, but the Fish and Fisherman's Union would be represented, and it was moved to adopt the outline and allow the report to be made to the executive committee.

The Women of South Dakota then read the report of the Committee on Credentials.

The Committee on Resolutions not being ready, the Fish and Fisherman's Union selected a President, and a roll call of States was had for the nomination of candidates.

McAlpin retired, and called F. T. Byrnes to the chair.

California yielded to Illinois, and Mr. Charles U. Gordon. There was a great demonstration for Mr. Calhoun ceased speaking. Lafayette Young of Des Moines and Mr. Staunton seconded the nomination for Mr. Gordon.

MINNESOTA POPULISTS.

State Convention Held to Ratify Fusion Arrangements.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 26.—The Populist State Convention met to-day to fill the two places left vacant on the State fusion ticket and ratify the selections of the Populists and Silver Republicans for the endorsement of ex-Congressman John Lind of New Ulm, first named for Governor by the Silver Republicans, was assured by the Democrats of Alex McKimmon.

Crookston, for Treasurer, and Julius Heinehans of Minneapolis for Secretary of State.

The nomination of Major J. M. Bowler of Bird's Landing, Fredrick J. Brundage, J. P. Keys of Duluth for Attorney General were considered the likely ones to fill out the ticket. The final quartet of electors was also to be named.

The convention organized by the election of State Senator P. M. Ringold of Polk as temporary chairman, and appointment of committees recess was taken.

The Owen-Donnelly fight is expected to be over by to-morrow, when Mr. Owen, who seems to be in control, will push their resolution approving the action of S. M. Owen and his supporters in supporting the fusion and endorsing Owen and the other reform candidates for Congress in this State. The action will be bitterly fought by the Donnelly men.

FUSION IN MICHIGAN.

The Three Parties Reach an Amicable Agreement.

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 26.—The conferees appointed by the three conventions yesterday reached an agreement at 11 o'clock this morning. They decided that the name at the head of the ticket should be the "Democratic Union Party," that the Populists should be accorded representation and to have the nomination for Auditor General. The three conventions will meet again to-day to decide upon the state ticket for the Populists and Silver men together to have a representation equal to that of the Democrats.

The Democratic State Convention convened at 10:30 this morning. While waiting for the report of the Conference Committee there was a general discussion of the party's platform, and the chairman of the conference committee read the report of the Bryan committee, which he had secured from the Bryan campaign committee.

"WE ARE OPOSED TO THE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER. * * * THE EXISTING GOLD STANDARD MUST BE PRESERVED!"—Republican Platform.

PURGE THE SCHOOL BOARD.

All honor to J. C. Terry, acting attorney for the School Board, for his sturdy opposition of the law in the case of Rebuck, the discredited member of the School Board who is impudently fighting for re-election in the Third District. Attorney Terry says: "H. H. Rebuck stands before your board and the community as a man condemned by the Supreme Court as a person not qualified to hold the office of director in the School Board."

Attorney Terry gives special reasons why the Supreme Court held Rebuck an improper person to look after the education of the children of a great city. Rebuck is a tax dodger, and the Supreme Court does not consider that tax dodging is a good example for young citizens to have prominently before them.

But there are other discredited members of the School Board who must be turned down and made to understand that private walks in life are more suited to their capacities and characters. Lest the citizens of St. Louis may have forgotten who they are, the Post-Dispatch reprints a list of these members. They are Henry Bus, Elmer E. Lacey, H. C. Gravé, William E. Landvogt, H. C. Koenig and William Godfrey.

These men were fined and sent to jail by the Supreme Court of Missouri for refusing to obey the law in regard to a school election. They are no more fit to be school directors than is Mr. Rebuck. When will the people of St. Louis arouse themselves to the importance of electing only men of unblemished character and the highest intellectual qualifications to look after the early training of their sons and daughters?

THE THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT.

It is already evident, even to Perry Belmont and J. P. Morgan, who, as the agents of the Rothschilds, are behind the Third Party movement, that it is not likely to count for much in this campaign as the B. F. Butler Third Party did in 1888.

It has no strength at all outside of New York City and Boston, and there has no following of voters. It represents money and nothing but money. The noise it is making is money talking against popular government and the reform of the currency, which can only be accomplished by the restoration of popular control of the mints.

The fact that it can't control Bourke Cockran in New York and win the discredited Breckinridge in Kentucky is rather an evidence of weakness than of strength. Nowhere has it secured the support of a single popular leader or given evidence that it has any support at all outside of the offices of trusts, of stock inflationists and money-brokers.

It is to be hoped that it will nominate a national ticket and stand up to be counted. Perry Belmont for President and W. C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky would be thoroughly representative of its purpose or of its morals. With such a ticket or with any other, it can not carry a dozen counties in the United States. We doubt, indeed, if it can half a dozen. There would be room for surprise if it carried one. Let it try it and see!

MANUFACTURING GOLD.

How many people believed the press dispatch from New York the other day, supposed to be signed by Inventor Stephen H. Emmens, that the secret of how to make silver into gold had at last been discovered? Doubtless many readers recalled the big "fire" dispatch from New York a few weeks back describing how a New York physician had photographed his own brain. There are some tall liars in New York, and they don't hesitate to sign noted names to their yarns.

As Dr. Emmens has not repudiated this story, however, it may be that he really believes that he can turn silver into gold. If he can work this change on silver, he can manipulate lead or any of the cheaper metals in the same way, and he may look for some remarkable changes as a consequence of the discovery.

Nearly twenty years ago Mr. Crookes, the inventor of the radiometer and the discoverer of two of the very rare metals, forwarded the theory, which he considered established by experiment, that all the metals had a common basis, in fact, that there was a simple substance that by different combinations produced the so-called elements, which were not elements at all, but compound states of matter.

If Dr. Emmens succeeds in his efforts to produce gold in unlimited quantities, of course that substance could not maintain its place as the leading money metal. The theory under which Dr. Emmens is working is not a secret. It could not be long before many other scientists would succeed in making gold also. Then down would go the commodity value of this metal, and we should see the gold hoarders appealing to the world's government to prevent the use of the metal. They would discover that the stamp of a strong government meant something. They would be converted to bimetallism without any further effort.

FOR PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY.

No one who has made an intelligent and disinterested study of existing conditions and their causes can have a reasonable doubt that the election of Bryan and the inauguration of the policy outlined in the Democratic platform will be followed by a period of prosperity greater than the country has ever known.

New inventions are being rapidly multiplied, the transportation problem is being solved by the application of electricity as power; science and improved mechanics resulting in better machinery and mechanical devices of all kinds are vastly increasing production. New States have been opened up, the world's population is growing, men are growing more civilized and more intelligent. Their demands for the products of labor are growing greater and with the resources of increasing civilization, they are able to give more in exchange for what they consume than they ever gave before.

All these things have been taken into full consideration, in the contest which led up to and inspired the Chicago platform. The Democratic party is not acting blindly or rashly. It has reached no sudden conclusions. It is simply pressing forward to do its work as the front fighter in the vanguard of civilization, the organ of popular self-government, the champion of the liberty which makes progress possible and forces its realization.

The chief monopoly organ says: "Several of the St. Louis street car companies are trying to raise the standard of their employees." That is very well. So long as those employees are not raised to the bad eminence of the gold standard, elevation is a good thing.

Mr. Lehman may be a patriot and a statesman as well as a party reformed copper-cornor, but before he can become entirely great he will have to convince the Gould family that he can carry his own precipit. And he will not do it in Missouri this year.

It will be indeed a spectacle worthy of all the gods of Olympus to see Colonel Broadhead leading Colonel Tom Skinner to the polls in support of the Third Party dollar in which Colonel Skinner would like to see Missouri County bonds paid.

When a Mexico (Mo.) firm refused to receive a bill of goods because a New York firm demanded payment in gold, the New York firm quickly scratched out "payable in gold." No gold contracts should be made in Missouri.

Kentucky Democrats are not sharing the "profound pain" of Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge. The silver people are not grieved to see Col. Billy shining as a goldbug. The goldbug is not one of the bugs they had been solidified.

Homes that were bought in building associations for from $1,500 to $2,500 would hardly bring from $1,000 to $1,500 now. That is what cornered gold and a dear dollar mean to hard-working people who save their earnings.

Mr. Montague Crackenthorp of the English bar pays a just compliment to the standard of legal education in the United States. Indeed, well educated lawyers are a necessity to our great corporations.

The decrease of more than $4,000,000 in the assessment of Cook County (Chicago) looks like a bad sign for the Windy City. There must have been a drouth in her business as well as in her annexed cornfields.

Democrats are not anxious to accept the concession that McKinley and Hanna will lose New York by 15,000. It is enough to know that they will lose Illinois, Indiana and Kansas by five times that much.

One of the lessons of the disclosures in regard to high commissions for charity solicitors seems to be that we should take our contributions directly to the institutions we desire to aid.

There is great enthusiasm in Illinois and Missouri and the silver campaign is progressing everywhere. Every silver man should have his coat off and his sleeves up.

When a Wall Street bank shouts for an honest dollar, it means its own note, based on interest-bearing debt and payable at its option in silver.

Every increase of 10 per cent in the purchasing power of cornered gold restricts production in so much and throws workers out of employment.

The flirtation with Hanna which is going on in St. Louis to-day will effectually divorce several giddy persons from the Democratic party.

It is hard on Philanthropist Butler that he should be suspected of having an interest in the proposed new garbage crematory.

Certainly the Daughters of the Confederacy deserve to control the Soldiers' Home and to succeed in their noble work.

Mr. Francis' paper puts Francis on its first page and relegates Bryan to the obscure of its inner columns.

If none of Hanna's money is to go to the Filley boys, where will Missouri Republican force be at?

buildings being extended from time to time, but sufficiently extensive to make sure that the hospital shall not be crowded by other buildings that may be erected in the future. It is vitally necessary for a hospital to have plenty of fresh air and sunshine. If possible, the land selected should be of such a size as to make sure that the new hospital will be surrounded by its own grounds after it is completed. This can only be attained by going far enough west to find a good-sized tract.

It is an excellent idea to retain the site of the old hospital for an emergency building. A well-equipped emergency hospital with a large and commodious permanent hospital farther west, would furnish St. Louis with such facilities for caring for her sick citizens as will be creditable to her enterprise and civic spirit.

Dr. Otto Arndt, the famous German economist, says with Justice that the nomination of Bryan is America's protest against English financial control of the world and against "the shady (stock exchange) transactions which threaten the common people, year in and year out." Dr. Arndt is an observing man. He has already found out that the American people know exactly what they are doing. Others will find out in time.

Mr. Francis' paper is the only daily in St. Louis and one of the few in the country that did not make some editorial comment Tuesday on the appointment of Mr. Francis to the Cabinet. Evidently the boys waited for instructions from him before they ventured to make them.

Ex-Populist Palmer is entirely too modest in declining to be the Third Party nominee. It would give him an admirable opportunity to explain what he meant by those soft money and other pledges he made while Populists and poker parties were in favor at Springfield.

Mr. Francis' paper is the only daily in Virginia in the state of which he remained until he finished his law course in January, 1888. On leaving the University of Virginia, he went at once to St. Paul, Minn., where he opened up a law office and began the practice of law, continuing there until July 1 of the present year, when he removed to this city and formed his present partnership with Marshall F. McDonald.

Mr. Fountroy's father, Thos. T. Fountroy, Sr., was the President and Presiding Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia at Richmond, from 1883 to 1885.

WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUISAN.

Thomas T. Fountroy, Jr.

From the London Financial News of March 10, 1886.

The financial situation in the United States is very serious. The Senate has blocked all relief measures proposed by President Cleveland and Congress is at a dead standstill on the money question. The sensational headlines following: "They Eloped and Were Married," and in the sensational headlines following: "His employers objected to his espousing a Gentile maid and fired him out." While willing to let him go, the managers of the company in whose service he was engaged, would not give him a reference. In the United States goes to a bimetallic basis with free and unlimited coinage of silver and money men in America would take on a new face; labor and industry would gain new life. The trade of the world would be increased and prices would rise. Great Britain would lose her markets in South America. And the same would be true of America. These events would not be long in capturing the main issue.

British creditors would apply them-selves to the American money problem.

The sound money men and banking interests, led by Senator Sherman, Cleveland, and others, say about the city bounded by Jefferson avenue, California avenue, Arsenal street and Festival street, and the whole of the business districts would be in the greatest collective distress.

We employ salespeople regardless of their religious belief or domestic arrangements, nor do we allow such matters to have any influence on our sales.

If we fail to do this, we are put out of business.

The damage that can be done British manufacturers by a protective tariff is slight.

It is a pity that we need fear no injury to her trade or investments if the Republican party can force "protection" tariff, as the many other political parties in the country.

C. B. T. DEFINES ITS POSITION.

OBJECTS TO MR. ROBERT SOLELY AS A RACING BOARD MAN.

WILL STAND BY THE A. C. C.'S.

Spirited Meeting Last Night—An Open Letter to Robert—Jordan's Speech—Notes.

The Robert case was warmly and practically discussed at the meeting of the Cycle Board of Trade in the Laclede Building last night.

Ever since last Wednesday, when the fact became known that the C. B. T. had requested Mr. Robert to resign his place on the Racing Board, everybody interested in the matter has been wondering what the Board of Trade would do if Robert declined to resign.

At the meeting it was decided to accede to the request of the C. B. T. and that organization having no direct punitive power, in the interim could do nothing but express a strong protest, further defining their attitude towards Robert and strongly affirming that he is a member of the Racing Board who is devoted to the best interests of cycling in St. Louis.

That was in effect all that the Cycle Board of Trade did except to define very strongly its attitude towards the Associated Cyclists' Club.

In the following letter, addressed to Mr. Robert, the Board of Trade clearly defined its attitude.

Mr. Douglas W. Robert, Member of the Laclede Building Association:

As the appended resolutions seem to have been misunderstood and misconstrued, both by yourself, the local press, and certain members of the Associated Cyclists' Club in this city, we desire to officially explain our attitude, and to further emphasize our position.

In the first place, the individual members of the St. Louis Cycle Board of Trade, who were present at the meeting of August 14, were unanimous in their desire to have nothing to do with you or your club in any way, in the matter or any attack upon you as an individual.

In the second place, the St. Louis Cycle Board of Trade, desiring the whole-souled devotion of the A. C. C. to the best interest of cycling, and having noted that the most prominent members of the racing club desire to go on record now as being heartily in accord with its aims and appreciative of the magnificent results of its labors.

Mr. Robert, as a member of the National A. C. W. Racing Board and official of the A. C. C., which must be your chief pull you, in your position both of a race promoter and a censor of the track morale and conduct of racing men, we can but reiterate the sentiments expressed in the above resolution.

We trust that you will be so good as to let us know when you will be able to make up your mind as to whether you will be a member of the Racing Board, and the Cycle Board of Trade, as an organization existing for the sole purpose of advancing and protecting cycling in St. Louis.

A feature of the meeting was a strong speech by Mr. John H. Parrott, who was born and brought up by Robert, accused of leading the fight against Mr. Robert.

Mr. Jordan said that Mr. Robert was over-zealous inoline racing men who through ignorance or carelessness, had offended in any little way. He cited several cases in support of his argument, and said that Mr. Robert was not a "thinking" man and unfit for a Racing Board position.

Mr. Jordan said that the aid of the National Cycle Board of Trade was invoked to help the local organization to have nothing to do with you, and that the meeting seemed to be against him, it did not press it.

Mr. Jordan said he had personal feelings against Mr. Robert, but denied that they in any way influenced him in acting or voting as he did. He was actuated solely by a high regard for the interests of cycling in St. Louis.

According to reports, a member of the Board of Trade, who is to be of slight personal regard for Mr. Robert, but dislike Robert, the member of the Racing Board.

SUNDAY'S ROAD RACES.

Members of the Towers, Qui Vives and Mercurys Are Training Hard.

The big road race meet which will take place at the Fair Grounds next Sunday is attracting a whole lot of attention.

The P. A. C. track is daily crowded with novices who aspire to win one of four races.

Dave Punch and Johnny Burck are after the prize given for the men, who has the most equine beauty, and Littleman and Littleman and J. W. Cheuning are also out for it. E. A. Knapp is training hard and expects to win the first race.

About fifteen members of the Towers are also in training. Homer Canfield and Charley Knowler will ride under the Towers colors. The Towers will be the first to win the Kenneth's road race last week. The Qui Vive people are doing their training in Forest Park. Over 100 riders will face the starter in the four races next Sunday.

KISSINGER FOR HALLMAN.

Secretary Muckenfuss Will Accept Such a Trade If Phillips Want It.

Secretary Muckenfuss of the St. Louis Browns yesterday wrote to Manager Shattuck of the Philadelphia Baseball Club, offering him Pitcher Kissinger in exchange for Second Baseman Hallman.

Mr. Shattuck has not yet had information from Tommy Dowd that the Phillips would be glad to make such a trade. After due consideration, he arrived at the conclusion that he did not want to do her, as she has some nice races left.

The Goodwood stud is making an enviable record for itself this season. That good filly, Queen Safo, won another race yesterday.

Charley McDonald is again in his last year's form.

They say that there is plenty of good racing to come. The horses of the followers of the night game are heating up both at the South Side and at Sportsmen's Park.

The trackwalked tracks are getting some fair horses lately. If they would only remove the "dogs" from the big tracks their expense would be lessened.

Sen. O'Brien, who returned to St. Louis yesterday after a plunge in Mt. Clemens, Mich., last Saturday, had no information from Tommy Dowd that the Phillips would be glad to make such a trade. After due consideration, he arrived at the conclusion that he did not want to do her, as she has some nice races left.

WHAT THEY SAID, WHAT THEY DID.

PERSONNEL OF THE ILLINOIS
GOLDSBUG CONVENTION.

IT WAS A DISMAL FAILURE.

More Than Half the Counties Were Not Represented by Real Delegates.

Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 25.—"Why don't you vote for McKinley and have done with it?"
said what Theodore Roosevelt, Secretary of the Illinois Democratic State Central Committee, asked John P. Hopkins a week ago.
"That is what I intend doing," said Hopkins.

The contemplated third ticket, which was nominated here to-day, had been under discussion. Nelson insisted that as the election of McKinley is the object aimed at by the bankers, and as they are without hope of electing a seating candidate, they have but two choices: either to make open war on all, or to vote for McKinley, repeated.

Hopkins, "and so will all the men responsible for the leadership and control of this movement, be compelled to vote for a ticket for gold Democrats to vote for, who will not vote for McKinley, and who, without any other place to fall, might go to Bryan."

Mr. Hopkins made equally candid declarations of the purposes of the goldbug leaders. He said that he did not believe that Gen.
Nelson is the only one among them who is willing to be quoted. The fact gains additional interest from the selection of Hopkins as the representative of the movement here to-day to represent the Illinois gold party in the Wall street convention at Indiansapolis.

The other seven are Senator Palmer, Ben
Cable, Wm. S. Forman, Chas. A. Ewing, John C. Black, C. H. Rogers, and Roger Bulliver. It may be inferred that some of them will be asked to nominate a candidate for the leadership and control of this movement. The movement, however, has chosen three bankers, one editor and one man entitled to be called a banker, and a firm supporter of the Governor.

Goldbug—Entitled to five, composed of one lawyer, who is not a successful
one merchant, who has failed in business,
and who has persistently fought the regulation of his own country for years.

De Kuh—Entitled to ten, composed of
three bankers, one editor and one man
entitled to be called a banker, and a firm supporter of the Governor.

Clinton—Entitled to five, composed of
one lawyer, who is not a successful
one merchant, who has failed in business,
and who has persistently fought the regulation of his own country for years.

Edgar—Entitled to four, only four of the present, two of them bankers and investors in money lending.

Fulton—Entitled to thirteen, nine present, and three more before he could be heard in Democratic conventions.

Hancock—Entitled to ten. Eight were present. Only two had had any recognition in another state.

Henry—Entitled to seven. None of them could be found on the floor of the convention. It was stated that five were in the city.

Iroquois—Entitled to ten. Delegation not full. W. S. Black, the leader, held up a handkerchief and said he had no time.

Kane—Entitled to four. Only two appeared, and one of them had no time.

Knox—Entitled to eight. Delegation filled of odds and ends. The delegates named in the Galesburg caucus decided to fall back on their original delegation and made up from outsiders.

Lake—Entitled to five—only four appeared,
and one was not vouchered for him.

La Salle—Entitled to 23. Home of J. H.
Pope, Conductor of the Greenback. Delegation efforts were made to discover this delegation, but only four of them could be found in the convention hall, called the "green-backers." The delegation, headed by Hedges and Mr.
Eckels, were the only delegates to be recognized.

Logan—Entitled to eight. Hoblit and Sergogin are directors and owners of banks; Dr. L. Miller's resignation as trustee of the Bank of America was accepted by Gov. Alford; Templeman is a wealthy farmer who has been erratic for several years.

Macon—Entitled to eleven. Delegation not full, only eight being present.

Marshall—Entitled to five; only one was present.

Mason—Entitled to six; four were present.

McHenry—Entitled to six; only two were present. Joel H. Johnson and an unknown man, both of whom were nominated to the convention and selected themselves as delegates.

McLean—Entitled to sixteen, eleven were present. The delegation, headed by C. L. Capen, a Democrat of only late year's growth, and the most prominent corporation lawyer of Bloomington.

McMurray—Entitled to nine; only two were present. George Zink and L. M.
Beck. F. W. Forsyth of Lincoln occupied a small room of practical position, view, splendid, from the goldbug point of view,
whether it wins or loses.

The goldbug Democrat has not a tender political conscience. Bokling comes easy to the task of representing the movement.

Nominated Alford were about a score of delegates instructed against "silver" and against "gold." Some were from Adams County and the City of Quincy.

They did not bolt the platform of the candidate, and the house, however, after the nomination of the candidate for Governor, remained in the convention and participated in all the other nominations.

One of the surprises of to-day was the presence of some of these men delegates in the convention, and the nomination of a ticket in opposition to the one selected by Mr. Ewing is of Decatur. He is conspicuous for having a telegram of congratulations from Carter Harrison for Governor of Illinois. The selection of Ewing for president, however, was a third.

Dick McAfee, not so conspicuous in corporation circles, was not less conspicuous in the convention of the goldbug in that which met at Peoria six days ago.

All of these are lusty champions of what they term the principles of management and the applause of Mr. Ewing's denunciation of the methods of Democratic government.

MRS. ALBRIGHT ON HER MUSCLE.

THRASHED MISS THOMPSON AND ISN'T A BIT SORRY.

NOT AFRAID OF "HUBBY."

He Runs a Typewriter Exchange and She Says He Is Gay With the Girls.

Occupants of the building, 710 Olive street, were treated to an exciting set-to between two angry women Tuesday afternoon.

One of the combatants was Mrs. A. Albright, who says her husband is always telling young women he is an unmarried man and the other a young woman who believed Mr. Albright's claim to single blessedness.

The young woman is Miss Bertha Thompson. She says she is a stenographer, with an office in the Laclede building, though her office could not be found there by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Albright is proprietor of a typewriter exchange on the third floor of 710 Olive street.

"I told her to get out, and if she ever came back I'd put out a gun," said Mrs. Albright.

"I went back yesterday. I stopped her half way up the stairs and told her I'd throw her down if she came up. She said to go to hell."

"Oh! you're only living with Mr. Albright; I'll come up if I can't find him."

"I'm afraid he'll kill me at this woman's house."

"I told Mr. Albright I'd throw him downstairs if he came out, and he didn't do it."

"She went running down-stairs and into the corn doctor's office. I followed her and made her nose bleed."

"He's telling girls he's a single man," continued Mrs. Albright. "I can see now, however, that I haven't got money enough."

"I'm going to steal enough out of his business, though from now on, to get a decent living."

"I've been married to him 10 years, and have three children. Then he got to run around with girls and telling them he was single."

"That's all the trouble about that woman, woman. Her right name is Mrs. Everett Payton. I didn't throw vitrol at her, though. I've given up my mind at this woman's house."

"I believe Mr. Albright's claim to single blessedness."

"That was two years ago. We had a nice horse. One night my husband went buggy-riding by himself. A car ran into the buggy, killing the horse, and Minnie Woods fell out of the buggy."

"Mr. Albright came home on the street car. When he saw me he said, 'What's this?'"

"He said he had entered him at the South Side track."

"Next day a friend of mine took me to Chestnut and Chestnut streets and showed me the buggy all smashed up."

"He's always getting into trouble, that way. Some day he'll kill me at this woman's house, but I'm not afraid he'll hit me. If he did I'd kill him."

"I'd wait until he went to bed and then I'd wake him up in the folding bed and let him smother."

"When that woman was up here yesterday Mr. Albright told me to throw her down stairs."

"I am only sorry it was not more she got."

ing were the most violent and disreputable. Recently the members were treated to the graphic spectacles of the Speaker pulling the chain and calling another member a liar. That meeting was mild and reputable as compared to Tuesday night's gathering.

The vicefulness and opprobrious epithets, such as are supposed to be limited to the chamber of brokers, and in saloons, Mr. Cronin was heard to use in the chamber, and that was not the full extent of the disorder. Cronin threw books at the Speaker, and when the latter tried to defend himself with another delegate, as though he were in his own wine room.

Cronein went to the House meeting specifically to play a star engagement, and he did so to a degree that disgusted every one there.

Every regard that he made, and he was unusually vulgar, was freely punctuated with dirty oaths.

He paid no more attention to the demands of the Speaker than he did in order to see if they had been made by a street urchin.

It was plain that Jim Cronin had no desire to force his commands, and no member had the courage to try to protect the House from such outrageous conduct.

Cronin quit cursing and throwing books at the Speaker when he got tired of the sport.

At one time when the Speaker spoke as if he intended to prove his point to the House, Cronin bounded away from his desk, hopped up to the Speaker's chair and shaking his fist in his face, defied him to speak.

The House looked on in silent submis-

When Lloyd moved that all standing committees be declared dead and the Speaker be given the right to determine the House for trifling away its time. He reminded the Speaker that he (Cronin) was the proud owner of the floor, which he had a right to, and that they were widely separated, and it took most of his time to look after them; he did not have time to look after them on the city's business, and he preferred to go on any committee that met more than once a year.

Lloyd's performance had lasted for half an hour or more, and having exhausted his fund of oaths and exercised himself in the art of swearing, he laid his head with copies of the revised ordinance he settled down to his seat.

The session was adjourned, for the terrible speaker was anxious to get away, and out of reach of the ruffian First Warden.

The motion of Mr. Lloyd prevailed, and Speaker announced the new committee as follows:
